Herbs that Drain Fire

These are among the coldest herbs in the materia medica.

- High fever
- Irritability
- Thirst
- Delirium
- Eye problems

These symptoms generally correspond to the Qi level in the four levels of Warm Disease Theory, or to the Yang Ming level in the six-stage Shang Han Lun theory.

The key symptoms associated with these levels are the Four Bigs (四大): big fever, big thirst, big sweat, big pulse.

Because they clear heat, these herbs tend to be bitter in flavor. Some, due to their ability to moisten dryness and generate fluids, are also sweet.

Because these herbs are so cold, caution must be taken not to damage the Spleen.
