Herbs that Clear Heat and Resolve Toxicity

Heat toxicity (热毒 rè dú) is extreme accumulation of heat.

Herbs in this category treat symptoms such as:

- hot, swollen, painful, deep-set sores (boils, carbuncles, furuncles)
- abscess (collection of pus), including breast abscess and intestinal abscess
- diarrhea and dysentery (inflammation of colon, severe diarrhea, abdominal pain)
- epidemic febrile outbreak (e.g. mumps, encephalitis)
- snake bite or insect bite

Heat toxicity is almost always acute in nature.

Many of these herbs can also be used topically as well.
